The tradition of Group Relations Conferences (www.tavainstitute.org and www.grouprelations.com) has generated extraordinary ideas and intuitions regarding unconscious collective thought processes, images, emotions, anxieties, defensive responses and the impact these reactions have on a system to “stay on task”. It is our responsibility to explore and create structures which nurture wellbeing and vitality in the systems we live in.

Our proposal is to offer a Group Relations Conference where traditional methods, internationally practiced for over sixty years, will focus on the dimension of the body and of energy as well as on their sustainable relationship with the environment.

THE PRIMARY TASK

The primary task of this conference is to offer participants the opportunity to explore how awareness of resources, energy and creative collaboration can introduce wellbeing into the organisations to which they belong.

The challenge of this work is to extend the field of attention to the unconscious as it manifests itself at the level both of the body and of the matter.

Interdependence and relatedness, essential for any kind of systemic thinking, will also be explored during the events that facilitate learning through contact with individual and group energy and our relationship with nature and other resources.

METHODOLOGY

The conference is a temporary organisation shaped by the collaboration of the participants and of the staff. Learning is experiential and based on the study of the here and now.

Residence is required: it is part of the learning as well as the observation of the web of relationships developed in the course of the conference's events. This method requires self-reflection and encourages a free spirit of research and thinking.

WHO IS THIS CONFERENCE FOR?

The conference is directed at individuals, from all walks of life, who are interested in understanding groups, organisational dimensions and the evolutionary level found in the social contexts in which we live. Specifically it is directed at those who would like to sustain existing resources in a better and ecological way and to bring new thoughts and wellbeing into the organisations where they operate.

Climate change is an unavoidable reality threatening the equilibrium of the globe which requires to be faced with attentive eyes turned both to the world we live in as well as to an inner world often moved

STRUCTURE

The design of the working conference articulates the traditional events of Group Relations Conferences (Plenary, Large Group, Social Dreaming Matrix, Institutional Event, Review and Application Groups) with events which explore the language of the arts and of the moving body in the space.

LANGUAGE: English and Italian

DURATION

The working conference begins at 12:30 pm, Thursday 13th June and ends at 2:00 pm, Sunday 16th June.

REGISTRATION: from 10:30 am to 12:00 pm, Thursday 13th June by acquired habits and unchallenged assumptions. In all social groups and in organisations, both corporations and institutions, the present crisis which covers an interconnected web of causes, from the financial to the environmental, calls for a change of direction. By activating new creative processes, it is possible to shift from a point of view based on unlimited expansion to one based on the reality of conscious use of limited resources.

The experience of the conference will allow participants, in the roles of leader and follower, to learn and reflect upon these themes and the possibility of creative collaboration towards the realisation of a common task.

ECW is a work in progress and a fertile field of research in the field of Group Relations Conferences: we recommend, if you have already participated, to enroll in this fifth edition to deepen learning and develop the ability to apply it in the context of your life.

FEEDBACK FROM PARTICIPANTS

The conference created a shift in me and the realization that I could pick up my past work and deliver it with renewed conviction in the legitimacy of my voice.

Elizabeth Cory-Pearce

The working conference has to do with a more subtle and resonant way of learning and new ways of embodying information. The mind in between observing and participating, experiences time in a different way and starts generating dialogues within and new ways of thinking wellbeing.

SPONSORED BY

IL NODO Group is a scientific-cultural no profit association of professionals founded in Turin in the nineties. It has carried out study, training and consultancy activities in collaboration with the Tavistock&Portman NHS Trust of London and other national and international scientific institutions.

The logo for IL NODO GROUP features the text 'IL NODO' in a large, teal, serif font above the word 'GROUP' in a smaller, teal, sans-serif font. A stylized teal circle is positioned between the two words, partially overlapping the 'O' in 'NODO' and the 'G' in 'GROUP'.

After a few years operating as a consortium, IL NODO Group has moved back to its original mission as a scientifically-oriented multidisciplinary centre with competences in health and social care, in the corporate world, in education, in the social cooperation and civil service. The association IL NODO Group is the main sponsor of the Italian residential Group Relations Conference "Authority, Leadership and Innovation" (ALI) that takes place every year since 1998.

regions: Lazio, Umbria and Tuscany. According to the ancient Greek historian Dionysus d'Alicarnasso, Celleno Vecchio was founded by Italo, a descendant of Enotro, in memory of his daughter Cilenia.

In Greek mythology, Celleno was one of the three harpies, daughters of Electra and Thaumias, and the town's official crest depicts the figure of a harpy.
